

Are You Getting Your Money's Worth???

When fueling your vehicle or shopping at the supermarket, look out for the Bureau's "Inspected and Approved for Accuracy" sticker. This sticker is an indicator to consumers that the instrument is accurate for use and displays an expiration date when the instrument should be retested to ensure continuous compliance.

Consumers Be Aware!
It is illegal for someone to transact business using an instrument that has not passed the required verification tests.
